

HOW WE WORK

Consultancy and function delivery for
AI in your business

Jonny Bowker, Managing Director at Advanced Analytica

Email: jonny.bowker@advancedanalytica.co.uk

We work in two connected stages. The first defines what AI should actually do for your business. The second runs it.

Consultancy: Discovery and Definition

Before we build anything, we need to understand your business model, your workflow, and where AI genuinely helps rather than where it sounds good. That understanding is the product of this stage.

What it includes

Structured working sessions to map your business model and operational touch points

- Identification of where AI can help, and equally where it cannot or should not
- A prioritised, scoped list of the functions worth building
- A specification pack ready to hand to a build phase, whether delivered by us or by your own team
- Rapid prototyping of candidate functions against our existing platform, so you see working evidence of value before committing to a build

Entry offer

Time	Up to 12 hours per month – typically 3 hours per week
Minimum term	3 months
Monthly fee	£3,300 exc VAT
Total for entry term	£9,900 exc VAT

A single month rarely gives a clear enough picture of a business model to define AI functions with confidence. Three months is the minimum we recommend to get this right.

At the end of this stage, you own the specification. You are free to build it yourselves or ask us to run it.

Function: Ongoing Delivery

Once a function is specified, it can be built and run as a live service. We design, build, and maintain the agents and workflows involved, and we keep improving the underlying skills they draw on over time.

What it includes

- Build of the agreed agents and workflows
- Ongoing maintenance, monitoring, and improvement
- A managed retainer, priced against the specific functions agreed in discovery

Function pricing is set per engagement, once the specification from the discovery stage is agreed.

Optional Add-ons: Webinars, Panels, and Workshops

Where useful, we are open to joining client webinars or panel sessions to support wider adoption within your network. We also run compressed, one day workshops covering the same use case discovery method as the consultancy stage, priced between £4,500 and £7,500 depending on scope. Both sit outside the core consultancy hours and are agreed and priced separately.

How It Works Commercially

Everything sits under one master services agreement, signed once, covering terms, IP, confidentiality, and liability.

- The discovery stage runs as a standard schedule under that agreement, fixed scope, fixed fee, no separate negotiation needed
- Function delivery is scoped and priced individually once discovery is complete, and is set out in its own statement of work attached to the master agreement

Summary

Discovery defines the functions. Function delivery runs them. You decide, at the end of discovery, whether we build what we have specified or you take it in house.

ADVANCED ANALYTICA FOR BUSINESS

Businesses face problems that traditional approaches don't reach. They need direct access to the information and expert judgement that decision makers actually rely on, when it matters.

Advanced Analytica builds AI assisted systems for businesses from ambitious companies through to global enterprise, turning data into valuable assets that reduce risk, cut cost, and impact performance, matched to their specific needs.

TAKE THE NEXT STEP

Find out how AI and data strategy can improve performance in your business.

ADVANCED ANALYTICA

Email: jonathan@advancedanalytica.co.uk

Web: advancedanalytica.co.uk

The data included in these materials are for illustrative purposes only. © 2026 Advanced Analytica Ltd. All rights reserved.